NFM launched May 2014 – more inclusive through "on-going country dialogue"

All stakeholders and affected groups to be involved in design of funding request for all three diseases

Global Fund Investing in programs that address barriers to access
Access…for hard to reach groups
Community attitudes – behavioural barriers
Example: Gender—When Women are Marginalized

Systematically identify and address gender-related barriers and vulnerabilities

First: Look at specific barriers to accessing health services (eg PMTCT, ANC):

- Support community advocacy to reduce financial barriers
- SBCC around changing norms around women’s involvement in their health care
- Partnerships with gender-focused community groups (men’s and women’s)
- Encourage gender-responsive programming including addressing harmful norms and gender based violence
- Monitor gender-responsiveness of programs
- Partner with women’s education initiatives
Points to Consider

• Effective responses: engaging / reaching these groups – work with them to learn who is being missed/ how to include them; involve members of such groups in delivering the programme; linkages with relevant programmes – ie: IOM when looking at Migrant workers/ mobile and cross border communities

• Support scaled up programming with hard to reach groups

• Ensure measureable budget allocations to hard to reach groups

• Ensure staff and partners involved have expertise on the needs and vulnerabilities of hard to reach groups knowledge and evidence is critical to designing approaches that will overcome barriers to use at the community level and improve the uptake of malaria interventions and services.

approaches which empower communities to be part of the solution to overcoming those barriers is the most effective way to breach that “last mile “ and reach true universal access to malaria control ....
